UAE-Day 2

Crossroads Museum-

The museum's mission: "To emphasize the importance of universal values, such as tolerance and respect, by demonstrating the essential historical roles they played in helping human civilizations flourish and progress on various dimensions."

What did you learn about tolerance today?

This is the only Holocaust exhibition in the Middle East outside of Israel. What does this show you about Israel- Middle East relations?

UAE-Day 2

Burj Khalifa and Babel Tower

Why are there so many conflicting reports in the media about the eventual height of the "Dubai Tower" currently being built there? It seems the rulers are concerned that another country will simply build something a few meters higher, preventing the tower from remaining in the position of "world's tallest." I wonder if the leaders of the United Arab Emirates ever said "come, let us build a city, and a tower with its top in the sky, to make a name for ourselves." Bereshit 11:4

The Babel tower was built by Nimrod, the ruler at the time, had achieved his position of worldwide dictator through might and violence. He wanted to build the tower so that he, rather than God, could have total control of Heaven and Earth. The midrash says that the Babel people built the tower "to make a name for themselves." The builders had reputation and status on their agenda.

Looking at this tower and the accomplishments of UAE generally, please reflect: What name do you want to make for yourself?

Tradition

This song suggests that while tradition is integral to the Jewish society, it is simultaneously being challenged (both internally and externally) in a rapidly changing world. What traditions do you have from home?

Have they ever been challenged?
